RED LEADERS IN HANDS OF EBERT GOVERNMENT

Radek, Russian Bolshevik Emissary, and Rosa Luxemburg Under Arrest.

TROOPS CAPTURE SPARTACANS

Silesian Railway Station and Berlin Police Headquarters Taken After Use of Artillery-Dr. Liebknecht Fades From View.

[By Associated Press.] LONDON, January 13.—Karl Radek,

one of the Russian Bolshevik emissarles in Berlin, has been arrested, ac-sarles in Berlin, has been arrested, according to Berlin advices to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Copenhagen. The dispatch also reports the capture of the Boetzow brewery by government troops.

Rosa Luxemburg, associated with Dr. Karl Liebknecht in the leadership of the rebellious Spartacan forces in Berlin, has been arrested by government soldiers, according to a report in the Taeglische Rundschau. The arrest is said to have been made when the troops were cleaning out the central office of the Spartacans last night, when Dr. Liebknecht's son also is reported to have been taken.

The capture of the Spartacans' office was effected by the free use of hand grenades. The soldiers burned in the street an immense quantity of Boishevik literature found in the headquarters.

ARREST OF LEDEBOUR

IS HIGHLY SIGNIFICANT

The arrest of Georg Ledebour, leader of the Independent Socialists, is looked upon as significant as a complete break in his relations with the Cabinet and presumably the end of the clandestine negotiations looking to a compromise of existing difficulties by arrangement for the disappearance of particularly objectionable persons on both sides and the postponement of the elections for the national assembly.

There is no confirmation of the report that Dr. Liebknecht has been silled. He has however, faded from sight with Chief of Police Elchhorn.
His disappearance may have given rise to reports of his death or arrest.

Spartacan forces outside of Berlin have been able to a certain extent to interfere with the arrival of government re-enforcements. At Lautsch, near Leipzig they are reported to have disarmed three trainloads of troops on their way to Berlin.

BERLIN, January 12, Sunday, 6 P. M.
BERLIN, January 12, Sunday, 6 P. M.
The Silesian railway station, which was the last important Spartacan stronghold in Greater Berlin, now is in possession of the government forces.
The Spartacan defenders lost courage when the troops began preparations to attack the station, and fled without attempting a defense.
Scattered Spartacan groups are still lighting in different points near the station, but are being dispersed rapidly.

station, but are being dispersed rapidly.

Government forces have captured the police headquarters after a short bome waited to see what effect had been made upon the Spartacans. When the lighting began the troops fired a few shells and then made upon the Spartacans. When the liatter failed to show signs of yielding, two men were sent forward with a white flag, demanding the surrender of the Spartacans. They were fired upon and killed by the men holding the building.

ARTILLERY FIRE RESUMED

AND POSITION IS TAKEN

Artillery fire then was resumed for a few minutes and the Spartacans began trying to flee. The soldiers thereupon stormed the building with a cheer and took several hundred prisoners. No government troops were killed in this encounter. It is reported the Bolsheviki are believed to have suffered the loss of fifty killed and many wounded. The soldiers were enraged at the shooting of the white flag bearers, and the Bolsheviki are said to have fared badly in the final clash. The capture of the headquarters was effected early Sunday morning. In the bombardment the government troops used 10.5 centimeter field pieces. The real revolutionary headquarters for the entire insurgent campaign has been in this building, and its capture leaves the revolutionists without any important stronghold in Greater Berlin excepting the Silesian railway station, which they have strongly fortified.

Police Chief Eichhorn was not among

The troops began surrounding the building late last evening, and machine-gun fire was opened against the Spartacans soon after midnight.

The defenders replied energetically, and for some hours were able to keep their machine-gun fire going by replacing the guns which the fire of the government forces put out of commission.

WASHINGTON, January 13.—The War Department to-day issued a list of American prisoners of war released from German prison camps and hosting the guns which the fire of the government forces put out of commission.

PERSONS WERE KILLED

In the fighting in Jerusalem streets, 100 were killed and 1,000 wounded Government troops are patroling the streets. Martial law has been practically established, though no government proclamation to that effect has been issued.

The Reds still hold two railway stations. Now that the Spattacide counter-revolution is practically ended, the independent Socialists are looked on with suspicion by the majority Socialists.

Herr Hasse, in an interview, assured me that the elections for the national constituent assembly will begin next Sunday. He said the assembly would surely be held, though the place of meeting had not yet been decided. He said there would be 400 delegates, and he was certain that the majority Socialists would have to join hands with the independents.

IBy Associated Press. LONDON, January 13.—At to-day's session of the allied military advisers in Paris, presided over by Marshal Foch, the suggestion was made that the allies occupy some of the German ports, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris.

The occupation would be undertaken as a guarantee for the carrying out by Germany of the armistice conditions and as punishment for Germany's dilatory methods in complying with some of the armistice terms.
